

My name is Ragav Singh, and I am from the magnificent city of Ambala, which is located in the state of Haryana in India's northernmost region. I am writing this brief statement of purpose for the application I am submitting to your university in order to participate in the Post Baccalaureate Diploma in Global Tourism and Hospitality Management program. Since May of this year, I have been in possession of a Bachelor's degree in Hotel Management, and I have more than six months of experience working in the Food and Beverage service industry. I have a strong interest in developing a career in the hospitality business and acquiring an in-depth understanding of the complex managerial responsibilities that are involved in this field.

The experience of guests who put themselves in vacation mode can be significantly improved by hospitality managers, who have the unique opportunity to do so. It is a privilege to be able to contribute to the joy and peace that guests derive from their vacation, and the fact that I will hold the power to ensure that their experience is perfect from the very beginning is what fascinates and inspires me about this line of work. I genuinely believe that it is an honour to be able to do so. Because the global standards and practices of hospitality management are being refined, success in this fast-paced industry necessitates an in-depth familiarity with the most recent advances in hospitality management theory and practice.

As soon as I finished the prerequisite coursework for my Bachelor of Hotel Management degree, I started looking into various specialised programs that would familiarise me with the global aspects of the hospitality industry while also giving me hands-on experience with the challenges and opportunities that are unique to this sector. This is how I found out about this specific program, and I didn't waste any time submitting my application for it. I knew that the various components of the curriculum, along with other factors such as the short duration of the program, would prove to be invaluable in assisting me in accomplishing the professional career goals that I have set for myself.

Because I will have the opportunity to put the skills and information that I acquire during the course into practice and obtain extremely helpful insights into the field as part of the extensive work experience, I am confident that the internship will contribute to and improve the quality of the educational experience that I receive. I am really looking forward to getting more information on Hospitality Operations Management and Developing Hospitality Strategy, as well as the international elements of these topics. My primary objective in the working world is to establish a career in the hospitality industry as an operations manager, and having knowledge of these topics is essential to achieving that objective.

After finishing the program, one of my goals is to find work with international resorts and hotels in various parts of the world to acquire a solid understanding of global standards of hospitality and tourism. By doing so, I will be able to comprehend what expectations guests have in order to make their vacation experience as enjoyable as possible, and I will also be able to determine how I can contribute to the demands of the industry while also keeping up with global trends. After gaining sufficient professional experience, I intend to go back to India and open a resort that welcomes tourists from all over the world and gives them a chance to have a vacation that is both stunning and unforgettable.

My completion of this program will, without a doubt, provide me with the skills, expertise, and exposure I need to accomplish everything that I have set out to do. After doing a lot of research and thinking it over, I decided to attend this particular university because of its highly supportive nature toward the students. This includes the institution taking thoughtful measures such as extending career support up to five years after course completion. This was a major factor in my decision to attend this particular university.

In addition, the resources offered by this university and the direction provided by professionals in the field will enhance the quality of my educational experience. I am also very excited to become a part of the student community that is so intellectually stimulating and highly dynamic and to have the opportunity to cultivate valuable contacts by connecting with industry giants.

I would consider it an incredible privilege to be offered the chance to further my education at your esteemed institution, and if you were to grant me that opportunity, you have my word that I will do everything in my power to live up to the standards of your school and achieve my goals.
